Prepare tomorrow's sport coaches, today

The 1st4sport Principles of Coaching Sport Suite of qualifications provides your learners, aged 14 years and over, with the knowledge needed to develop their confidence and start them on the road to an engagement with coaching sport.

- principles of planning, conducting and evaluating coaching
- supporting participant development
- principles of safe and equitable coaching practice.

The qualifications will also provide the foundation for all UK Coaching Certificate (UKCC) sport-specific coaching programmes and have been accepted as part of the Additional and Specialist Learning Catalogue for the Diploma in Sport and Active Leisure.

The suite comprises:

- 1st4sport Level 1 Award in the Principles of Coaching Sport

Why Deliver the qualifications in the Suite?

Opens the door of sport to your learners

They provide an excellent way to develop your learners' knowledge and understanding of coaching, which can support progression to UKCC sport-specific programmes.

Save time with flexible delivery options

Should you or a governing body of sport wish to offer a sport-specific coaching course to learners, you can now support the option of delivering the generic content, enabling the governing body of sport to focus on the sport-specific content, which could save you both time and money.

The coaching experts

As with all 1st4sport qualifications, we work in partnership with industry experts to develop the most meaningful and relevant qualifications that meet end-user needs. Our partnerships include:

- The Football Association (The FA)
- Rugby Football Union (RFU)
- Lawn Tennis Association (LTA)

...and many more others.

Make best use of recognition of prior learning

Once these qualifications are attained, it can be used as recognition of prior learning (RPL), meaning learners only have to cover generic coaching content at level once, rather than duplicate it.

Diploma in Sport and Active Leisure Approved

The qualifications have been accepted to form part of the Additional and Specialist Learning (ASL) Catalogue for the Diploma in Sport and Active Leisure, which is fast approaching in September 2010*.
