Privacy Notice – Your Personal Learner Record (PLR)

A personal learning record (PLR) is an online compilation of a person's learning and achievement records collected by UK education bodies, held by the Learning Records Service (LRS). The information stored in your PLR is provided by the Skills Funding Agency in partnership with other educational organisations that you have agreed can collect and share information on your behalf.

The PLR allows you to access a government-backed record of what you have learned and achieved through education and employment. The PLR will be a lifelong record of your learning and qualifications, which will be accessible to you and to organisations where you have permitted viewing.

The PLR service supports 1st4sport and other awarding organisations in their ability to make awards of qualifications based on units awarded by other awarding organisations. The PLR service may obtain personal information that has been obtained by third parties to supplement your PLR.

All organisations that will have access to the information you provide are registered under the Data Protection Act 1998 and will use your personal information in accordance with requirements of the Act. At no time will your personal information be passed to organisations for marketing or sales purposes.

For further details of how your data is shared and used by the Learner Registration Service and how to change who has access to your record, please use this link.

The National Careers Service provides access to your PLR, information, advice and guidance tools to help you make decisions on learning, training and work opportunities.
